

How to Write a Good Blog Post about a School Activity

Dear students,

Here are some easy steps and tips to help you write a short and interesting blog post in English. Your post will be about a classroom activity or an extra-curricular activity you did at school. Follow these steps carefully!

STEP 1: Think Before You Write

Ask yourself:

- What activity did we do?
- Why did we do it?
- What subject(s) was it connected to?

STEP 2: Structure Your Blog Post

Try to include all of these points:

♦ 1. Introduction

- Say what the activity was.
- Say when and where it happened.

Example:

On 15th March, we visited the Science Museum in Zaragoza as part of our Physics class.

♦ 2. Main Body

- Explain what you did in the activity.
- Say who took part (students, teachers, groups, etc.).
- Explain why this activity was important or interesting.
- Say what subject(s) it was related to and what topics or content you studied.

Example:

We learned about renewable energy. This connects to what we studied in Technology and Natural Science.

◆ 3. Reflection

Answer these metacognitive questions in a short paragraph:

- What did you learn from this activity?
- What was the most interesting or surprising part?
- How can this activity help you in the future?

STEP 3: Add Photos

- Choose 1 to 3 photos from the activity.
- Make sure the photos are clear and appropriate.
- Add a short caption for each photo.

Example:

This is our group working on the water filtration experiment.

STEP 4: Check Your Work

Before you publish, ask yourself:

- Did I include all the required information?
- Did I answer the three reflection questions?
- Did I use clear and simple English?
- Did I add 1 to 3 photos?

EXTRA TIPS

- Use past tenses (we did, we went, we learned...).
- Use connecting words (first, then, after that, finally...).
- Keep your blog post short but complete (about 100–150 words).
- Use a title that makes people want to read your post!

This activity will help you practise English writing, reflect on your learning, and share your school experiences with others. Enjoy writing!
